

ASID QLD Conference

What is working well? What is not? And what's next in the lives of people with Intellectual Disability?

The Australasian Society for Intellectual Disability (ASID) promotes research and practice that helps people to share their experiences. During the conference we will talk about what has been hard, what is working well and what we can learn for the future.

Date: Monday 23rd September 2024

Time: 9am - 5pm - 8:30am arrival

Place: Modwest Building (11A), St Lucia Campus, The University of Queensland
